SETTLE DAMAGE SUITS AGAINST ROOT GLASS CO.

CLAIMS OF SAM RILEY AND OTHO RUARK, WHO ASKED $2-000 EACH FOR INJURIES RE-CEIVED LAST JULY, WHILE
THEY WERE EMPLOYED AT SAND PLANT, ARE COMPROM-ISED.

SET FOR TRIAL MONDAY

Suits against the Root Glass Co., of Terre Haute asking damages of $2,000
each, which were filed by Sam Riley and Otho Ruark, for personal injuries received last summer while they were employed at the Root Glass Co., sand plant at Fern, have been settled. Under the terms of the compromise Riley and Ruark are to get $750 each.

The accident occurred last July. The men claim that they had been sent to work at helping repair a suction pump, when another employe turned on steam which badly scalded them.

Trial of the cases was to have begun in the Putnam Circuit Court next Monday. Hays & Murphy of this city represented Riley and Ruark in the case, while McGregor, Knight & Miller of Brazil were attorneys for the glass company.

VOTE DOWN UNION OF M. E. SCHOOLS

MEMBERS OF JOINT COMMITTEE
DECIDE PROPOSAL TO MERGE
DEPAUW AND MOORES HILL IS UNTIMELY—UNIVERSITY TO CO-OPERATE IN CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS.

WILL AID SMALLER SCHOOL

Officials of DePauw University have announced definitely that the proposed merger of the local school and Moore's Hill College, which has been under the consideration of a joint committee of the two Methodist schools since last summer, has been abandoned and that the institutions will be continued in their present status.

The only reason given for declining
the proposal made by officials of the Moore's Hill corporation and favored by several members of the DePauw regeneration and the board of education of the Methodist Church, through Indiana representative, the Rev. A.
Storrs of Indianapolis, is that the time is not yet ripe for the consolidation.

The joint committee which had the larger plan under advisement held meetings. After thorough investigation, it was considered inadvisable attempt to transfer the Moore's Hill property to the DePauw corporation
at the present time.

The internal problems and financial difficulties which the move would entail, together with the disapproval of many alumni of both schools, are supposed to have been the chief factors in influencing the committee in its decision.

The joint committee was composed of two members of the board of trustees of each school, together with the representative of the two colleges, Dr.
George R. Grose and Dr. A. J. Bigney.
Dr. Storrs was chairman of the committee. The trustees represented DePauw were Hugh Doughty and Henry H. Hornbrook of Indianapolis, president and secretary respectively of the board. Ward Watson and Sol H. Essarey, both of Indianapolis, were the Moore's Hill representatives.

The DePauw representatives, although opposing the merger at the present time, expressed a willingness to co-operate with Moore's Hill in any practical way in its campaign for funds with which to meet the needs of the smaller college.

Funeral of Mrs. Mary Murphy.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Murphy, a former Greencastle resident who died Saturday in Terre Haute, was held this morning at St. Paul's Catholic church. The Rev. Maher had charge of the services, which were followed by interment in Forest Hill cemetery. Those who attended the funeral from out of town were: Mr.
and Mrs. Dennis Nelan and family of Lafayette, Mrs. Mary Courtney and family of Anderson, Mr. and Mrs.
William Haley and family of Terre Haute, Mr. and Mrs. William Tobin and daughter of Muncie, Mr. and Mrs.
Edward Tobin and family of Roach-dale, James Tobin and Mrs. Mary Brookshire of Crawfordsville, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Callahan and son Albert of Terre Haute, Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy and daughter of Indianapolis,
Mrs. John Brophy and Mrs. John Bolland of Terre Haute.

Why Hint?

(Tipton Times.)

R. O. Johnson, mayor of Gary, has quit the race for Governor, saying that there is no use for a man in moderate circumstances to aspire to the nomination as a Republican candidate for Governor. It is hinted that James P. Goodrich and Warren T. McCray are both freely using money to further their candidacy for Governor.
Note the contrast, Congressman Adair and Leonard B. Clore, the Democratic candidates for Governor, are not spending one penny except for hotel bills and traveling expenses.

REVIVAL MEETINGS AT COLLEGE AVE. CHURCH

Dr. Tillotson has announced a series of meetings at College avenue church beginning Sunday. The music will be in charge of Leslie Miller of DePauw.
The meetings will begin every evening at 7:30. During this series of meetings a meeting will be held on each Sunday afternoon at 3:15 at the court house for men. Special announcements of the meetings are being made on cards containing a picture of the church which the pastor is anxious to have placed in the window of every home where the inmates are friends of College avenue church.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our thanks to our many neighbors and friends for the many kindnesses and words of sympathy during the sickness and death of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Clay Reeves. Also we wish to thank Rev. Hootman for his kind words, the undertaker, Mr. Hanna, the singers and all who assisted us in any way.

WILL DETERMINE HOW TO SELECT NEW PRESIDENT

EXECUTIVE BOARD OF BOOSTER CLUB CONFRONTED WITH VAC-ANCY IN LIST OF OFFICERS—
MAY REQUIRE A MEETING OF
MEMBERSHIP OF THE ORGANI-ZATION.

CANNON DECLINES HONOR

A meeting of the board of directors of the Greencastle Booster Club probably will be called by Roy Abrams,
vice-president of the organization,
within the next few days to determine the method of filling the vacancy in the list of officers created by the refusal of John Cannon to accept the presidency of the club. Mr. Cannon was elected to the highest office in the organization at the recent business meeting and annual banquet held in the court house. At the time of his election he was on an extended visit in the East and upon his return home Tuesday he notified members of the executive board that he did not care to serve in the capacity to which he was chosen.

In declining the office Mr. Cannon stated that he has served as vice-president of the club for a year and that it is his belief that an entire change of officers for the coming year is to be desired. He assured the members of the executive board that he desires to continue his interest and work in the affairs of the organization but that he would rather serve as a private member. The decision of Mr. Cannon is in line with the policy of B. F. Corwin, former president of the club, who would not allow his name to be considered for a second term because of the new life that a change of officers is sure to give to the work that it is carrying on.

Just what the proper procedure should be in filling the vacancy in the presidency is not known. The constitution of the club provides that the executive board shall be named by the president and vice-president and that the board shall have the power to determine all matters of consequence that may come before the club for settlement in the interim between the meetings of the membership. This may be construed so that the executive board will of itself name a man to succeed to the presidency. However, it may be that a meeting of the members of the club will have to be called to fill the vacancy.

As soon as a new president has been chosen, he and the vice-president will meet and name the seven members of the new executive board.
The members of old board who will be called upon to meet with Mr. Abrams to determine the proper procedure in filling the vacancy in the presidency of the club are, Dr. J. M. King, C. C.
Gautier, Ed Bicknell, W. A. Grogan,
Edgar Prevo, A. B. Hanna and E. L.
Harris.

MRS. HOFFNER GETS A DIVORCE AND ALIMONY

John Hoffner, chief dispatcher for the T. H. I. & E. Traction Co., with offices in Greencastle, is at last a divorced man. But it was not on his petition for divorce that the separation was granted. For each Judge Hughes of the Putnam Circuit Court and Judge George Brill of the Hendricks County Court denied Hoffner divorces. In each of these cases, Mrs.
Hoffner, who now resides with her daughters in Lebanon, appeared against her husband and asked that the divorce not be granted.

After Judge Brill had heard the evidence in the case, which was tried last week, he expressed his intentions of denying Hoffner a divorce. Then it was that Hays & Murphy, attorneys for Mrs. Hoffner, asked the judge to grant them the privilege of filing a cross-complaint, in which Mrs. Hoffner would ask divorce and alimony.

Judge Brill granted the request and,
on the evidence already heard, granted Mrs. Hoffner divorce and alimony of $675.

MARRIAGE OF MRS. FANNIE BOSWELL AND ABNER SIGLER

Mrs. Fannie Boswell and Abner
Sigler, a farmer of Clinton township, were granted a marriage license at noon today and were married soon after by Squire Phillip Frank in the office of the county clerk. Both are well known in the communities in which they have lived. The bride was on February 1 granted a divorce from her husband, Eli Boswell, a prominent farmer of Madison township.

BRAZIL IS THREATENED WITH A LABOR FAMINE

An employment bureau to assist the industries of Brazil in securing sufficient employes in the face of a threatened labor famine this summer
will be inaugurated here by Secretary Bogle, of the Chamber of Commerce, on March 1st.

This course was decided upon by the Board of Directors of the Chamber at their meeting Monday afternoon. It was shown that the clay factories of this city are already pressed for sufficient men, and that the American Sewer Pipe company has announced that it will need about 50 more men about the first of March.
By the time the company's new factory is in complete operation, this company will have added from 100 to 150 more men to its force. With the demands of other factories it is apparent that the supply of labor is not going to equal the demand.—Brazil

SILLERY FILES A SUIT FOR DIVORCE

GREENCASTLE BARBER ASKS
THAT MARRIAGE CEREMONY PERFORMED ON FEB. 6 BE AN-
NULED—UNLAWFUL INTI-MACY WITH ANOTHER PER-SON IS CHARGE PLACED AGAINST BRIDE.

LIVED TOGETHER ONE DAY

A suit for divorce from his bride of ten days was filed in the Putnam
Circuit Court on Wednesday by William Sillery, a Greencastle barber.
The complaint alleges unlawful intimacy on the part of Mrs. Sillery with another person and the practice of fraud in procuring the marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Sillery were married in Indianapolis on February 6. They lived together until the afternoon of the next day, the complaint alleges,
when they separated, and have not since lived as man and wife. Mr.
Sillery charges that the contract of marriage was procured by fraud in that Mrs. Sillery, who formerly was Mrs. Della Page of Indianapolis, had been unlawfully associating with another person; that she kept him from a knowledge of this association and intimacy until the seventh day of February, which time was one day after the marriage. Sillery further states that he abandoned Mrs. Sillery on February 7 and that they have not lived together since. A judgment declaring that the marriage be declared void and without force and effect, and that all other proper relief be granted, is asked.

Robert H. Newgent of Greencastle and Russell Newgent of Indianapolis are the attorneys for Sillery.

LINEMAN INJURED IN FALL FROM HIGH POLE

Richard Duncan, a lineman for the Putnam Electric Co., was injured Monday afternoon, when he fell from an electric company pole in the alley
at the side of the Thomas Buggy
Co. building. Mr. Duncan, luckily, escaped serious injuries. His right forearm was badly bruised and the muscles torn and he received similar injuries to his left ankle. The lineman had climbed the pole to repair some defective wiring, when his climbing spurs slipped and he fell.
Luckily he caught hold of the pole as he fell, and although he was not able to catch sufficiently to hold, he managed to break the force of the fall.
Mr. Duncan is able to be around but will be unable to resume his work for several days.

NEXT MEETING AT ROACHDALE ON OCTOBER 24

PUTNAM COUNTY KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS PERFECT ORGANIZA-TION AND DETERMINE TO MAKE COUNTY MEETING AN ANNUAL EVENT—ABOUT 150 ATTEND LUNCHEON AND MEETING MONDAY NIGHT.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

Putnam County Knights of Pythias, in meeting here Monday, determined to hold a county meeting of the organization once each year in the future, and set October 24 as the date for the next gathering. Roachdale lodge, No. 297, which had a large representation at the meeting here Monday, was awarded the honor of being the host for the occasion.

Officers of the county organization, which were elected late Monday afternoon, are as follows: Allen Moore, Greencastle, president; David Bain,
Russellville, vice-president; General
Young, Roachdale, secretary-treasurer. The arrangements for the next meeting will be under the direction of these officers. The county meeting will be held in October of each year.

A pleasant and profitable time was reported by all the Knights who attended the first county gathering here Monday. The feature of the afternoon session was the perfecting of the organization. A delightful luncheon was served for the visitors at six o'clock in the evening by Eagle lodge,
No. 16, which was the host for the meeting. Following the luncheon the night session of the meeting was held, at which about 150 Knights were in attendance. The principal features of the night session were an address by Arthur P. Lowe of Indianapolis, a former grand chancellor of the organization in Indiana, and the rank work which was conducted by the Greencastle lodge. Mr. Lowe spoke in place of Charles F. Remy of Indianapolis, the present grand chancellor, who was unable to be present. The rank work was given for Floyd Wert of Roach-dale. By a special dispensation Mr.
Wert was taken through three degrees.

After the formal meeting was over the lodge members enjoyed a social time while waiting for the night Monon trains, on which many of the out-of town visitors returned to their homes. Members of the Greencastle Elks lodge who attended the gathering invited those in attendance to the Elk lodge hall where a victrola concert was enjoyed.

The Knights of Pythias who registered at the county meeting during the day and night were as follows:

HENRY FORD TO BACK PREPAREDNESS MOVE WITH AD CAMPAIGN

DETROIT, Feb. 14.—It was announced tonight that Henry Ford is preparing to launch a countrywide campaign of newspaper and magazine advertising against the program for huge naval and military expenditures
now before congress.

It was said Mr. Ford intends soon to carry out his announced intention to devote millions of dollars to an educational campaign against war and preparedness, which he declares to be the first step toward actual war.

None of the details of the plan could be obtained tonight except that Mr. Ford had been considering the campaign for some time and that "all the people of the country would be reached by it."

ADAIR TO VISIT PUTNAM, FEB. 22

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR NOMINATION FOR GOVERNOR
WILL VISIT IN GREENCASTLE, CLOVERDALE AND ROACH-DALE ON WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY—WILL MAKE A FLYING TRIP THROUGH COUN-TY.

TO SPEAK AT ROACHDALE

J. A. M. Adair of Portland, United States Congressman and Democratic candidate for the nomination for governor, has sent word to party leaders here that he will visit Putnam county on February 22. The trip will be a hurried one, Mr. Adair expecting to remain in the county only during the morning and afternoon.

Mr. Adair will come to Greencastle on the morning of Washington's birthday and will spend a few hours here visiting local people. Towards noon he will go to Cloverdale for a similar visit. After dinner Mr. Adair will go to Roachdale where he is scheduled to address a mass meeting in the afternoon. This will be the only speech he will make in the county on that day, according to present plans.

Following his address at Roachdale
Mr. Adair will go to Crawfordsville for a speech at night before the democrats of Montgomery county.

Population of the United States.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Census bureau experts estimated today that the population of the United States on January 1, 1916, was 101,208,315,
and that by July 1, it would be 102-017,302. On July 1 last year they figured the population at 100,388,318.

Western states have led in growth,
Washington leading the list, with Oklahoma, Nevada, North Dakota and New Mexico following in the order named. Bureau estimates are based on the rate of increase between the 1900 and 1910 censuses.

CHANGE IN VOTING PLACE IN NORTH PRECINCT 24 WARD

The county commissioners have designated a change in the voting precinct in the north precinct of the second ward of Greencastle City, for the approaching primary election. The Grand Central Hotel building which has generally been the voting place in this precinct will be abandoned in the approaching election and the men's rest room in the court house will be used as the voting place.

NINE CANDIDATES HAVE WITHDRAWN

COUNTY CLERK HARRY W. MOORE RECEIVES NOTICES FROM DEMOCRATS WHO HAD FILED DECLARATIONS OF CANDIDACY FOR PRECINCT COMMITTEEMEN NOT TO ALLOW THEIR NAMES TO GO ON THE BALLOT.

NAMES ARE CERTIFIED

Nine notices of withdrawal of candidacy were filed with County Clerk Harry W. Moore, up to 5 o'clock Thursday night, which was the latest hour at which withdrawals could be filed.

In each instance the candidates who withdrew their declarations of candidacy were candidates for precinct committeemen on the Democratic ticket.

These withdrawals constitute the second skirmish between the backers of William Sutherland in his candidacy for election to the office of county chairman, and the opposing forces.

Six candidates who were backed by the opposition to Mr. Sutherland withdrew their names as candidates. These six are as follows:

Chris E. Knauer, Brick Chapel precinct, Monroe township.

D. E. Reed, north precinct, Russell township.

C. C. Baker, north precinct, Floyd township.

A. H. Clark, south precinct, Marion township.

Scott Irwin, west precinct, Madison township.

Walter L. Tincher, west precinct, Jefferson township.

Two candidates who were backed by the Sutherland forces, Edward Dalby, of Limesdale precinct, Greencastle township, and Oscar R. Michael, of the east precinct of Cloverdale township, withdrew their names as candidates.

The ninth candidate who withdrew, and whose declaration of candidacy was filed independently, is John Spencer, of the north precinct of Russell township.

Declarations of candidacy of all other candidates who will go on the county primary ballots have been filed with the Secretary of State in Indianapolis. This list is now completed but the certification of the list to the Putnam county clerk probably will not reach County Clerk Harry Moore for several days.

The candidates who will be certified to the clerk of the local court by the Secretary of State, are as follows:

Democrats.

For President—Woodrow Wilson, Princeton, N. J.

For Vice President—Thomas R. Marshall, Indianapolis.

For United States Senator—John W. Kern, Indianapolis.

For Governor—John A. M. Adair, Portland, Ind. Leonard B. Clore, White River township, Johnson county.

For Congress, Fifth District—Ralph W. Moss, Center Point.

For Prosecuting Attorney, Judicial District—Fay S. Hamilton, Greencastle, Ind. C. C. Gillen, Greencastle, Ind.

For Representative—Andrew F. Durham, Greencastle, Ind.

Republicans.

For President—Charles W. Fairbanks, Indianapolis, Ind.

For Vice President—No nomination.

For United States Senator—Arthur R. Robinson, Indianapolis, Ind. Harry S. New, Indianapolis, Ind. James E. Watson, Rushville.

For Governor—Roswell O. Johnson, Gary, Ind. Quincy A. Myers, Logansport. Warren T. McCray, Kentland. James P. Goodrich, Winchester.

For Congress, Fifth District—Everett Sanders, Terre Haute. Daniel V. Miller, Terre Haute. Melchord H. Kulch, Terre Haute. James B. Davis, Brazil.

For Prosecuting Attorney—Thomas Arthur Moore, Greencastle.

For Representative—Charles McGaughey, Roachdale.

Progressives.

For President—No nomination.

For Vice President—No nomination.

For United States Senator—James B. Wilson, Bloomington.

For Governor—J. Frank Hanly, Indianapolis.

For Congress, Fifth District—No nomination.

For Prosecuting Attorney—No nomination.

For Representative—Samuel Nelson, Monroe township.

W. O. Timmons is confined to his home by illness.

St. Valentine Smiles on Maidens Monday, According to Tradition

And now we have St. Valentine's day when Cupid, the champion of the infatuated, sends messages of love and devotion from one person to another through the medium of red hearts and green verses pasted and printed on tinselled paper and celluloid. It is the day, when, according to tradition, the patron saint smiles on maidens the world over.

There are stories and stories of St. Valentine and many versions as to how the celebration of day began, but the nature of the occasion makes one stand out above the rest because of its pretty sentiment. It is told that Emperor Claudius of Rome once decreed that there should be no more marriages in his realm because of the fact that men with sweethearts and wives were loath to go to war. The edict defeated its very purpose for the opposition to marriage offered the greatest impetus possible to love. Throughout the country maidens and swains, who long had been debating over the question of marriage, immediately decided that their lives were the very essence of loneliness. Among all the persons of the country who were empowered to do so they could only find one who would perform the ceremonies. That was the priest Valentine.

When the emperor learned of the marriages he became enraged and ordered that the priest be put to death. But even though this was done, his memory lived in the hearts of the people, particularly sweethearts, who have since celebrated the anniversary of his death. During the middle ages the first youth who saw a maiden in the morning or the young man whose name she drew from a box was her valentine or knight for the day. He gave her a gift and attended her gallantly. The gift, too, became a valentine.

Of course, there are many other stories of the origin of St. Valentine that appeal. There is the one of Valentinus whose head was cut off during the reign of Marcus Aurelius Claudius Gothicus, because of jealousy. Valentinus was supposed to have the power of healing a lovers' quarrel and was often beseeched by young maidens to help bring back an erstwhile lover. His general sweetness of character made him so beloved that the emperor feared for his throne and this led to the beheading of Valentinus. After his death his memory lived in the hearts of lovers and it became the custom to celebrate his birthday with the giving of flowers and sweets.

Thus the custom of gift making started and grew until now Valentine day is only a little less the day of gift making than Christmas. Red, the color which symbolizes good cheer and is used universally for Christmas, was for many years the popular valentine color but it has been replaced to a great extent by blue, the true lovers' color, and pink, which symbolizes thought.

BAINBRIDGE NOSES OUT IN ANOTHER TWO-POINT VICTORY

The Bainbridge high school nosed out ahead in a basketball game with the local high school here Saturday night. The score was 18 to 16, and the game was an almost exact reproduction of a contest staged here a few weeks ago when the north Putnam lads won by a count of exactly two points.

The first half of the battle Saturday night was decidedly in favor of the visitors while the local team had the better of the argument during the second frame. Moffett, the star forward of the Bainbridge team, lead from the first and scored most of the points for the winners. The end of the first half showed a score of 12 to 6 in favor of the visitors. Greencastle braced shortly after the beginning of the second half and slowly crawled up on their opponents. Bainbridge only counted 6 points during the last session while Greencastle was registering 10. It is believed that had the game continued a few minutes longer the final count would have favored the local basket shooters.

The game was hard fought from the beginning. Next to Moffett, Lynch of Greencastle caged the most points, he having registered three field goals for a total of six markers.

Cosgrove made 4 points for Bainbridge, and the other markers for Greencastle were counted as follows: Jones, 4; Davis, 2; Connerly, 2; Burks, 2. Out of four trials from foul goals, Moffett of Bainbridge made 2 points. Jones of Greencastle missed two chances. The referee was Stewart of Bainbridge. Huestis of Greencastle was the scorer.

FALL RESULTS IN SERIOUS INJURY TO WILBUR SELLERS

Wilbur Sellers, a prominent young farmer who resides just at the edge of Greencastle, was rendered unconscious just before noon Monday when he fell against the iron pump at the corner of Indiana and Walnut streets and suffered a severe cut on the head. Sellers was first found as he was lying on the sidewalk with his face covered with blood by Hiram Huffman of the Greencastle fire department force. Other firemen assisted and Sellers was removed to the fire department building where he regained consciousness a few minutes later.

Sellers had left town on his way home when the accident happened. He was unable to explain how he happened to fall but it is believed that he was ill and that he had a fainting spell. In falling, Sellers struck the pump with his nose and a gash about a half inch long was inflicted. The force of the blow and the loss of blood caused him to lose consciousness. After he had revived under the attention of the firemen he was taken to the office of Dr. G. W. Bence where medical aid was administered. He was able to go to his home about one o'clock.

OFFICER FINDS DRUNKEN MAN HALF BURIED IN MUD

Half buried in the mud and slush in the DePauw baseball field, where he had fallen in a drunken stupor, Tom Nelson, a Greencastle brick and stone mason, probably would have frozen to death Saturday, had not George Hanna happened to find him and notified the city marshal.

When the officer reached the ball park he found Nelson lying face downward in the mud and slush. He was in a drunken stupor and probably would have been frozen to death had not the officer taken him to jail.

He was kept in jail until Sunday morning when he was released on his promise to appear in the mayor's court Monday morning. On account of the age and general character of the man, Mayor Cooper fined him but remitted the fine, with a promise that the next time Nelson became intoxicated and was arrested it would mean a trip to the state farm.

DEATH OF MRS. MARY MURPHY IN TERRE HAUTE

The death of Mrs. Mary Murphy occurred at the family home in Terre Haute on Saturday evening at 4 o'clock. Mrs. Murphy had been in ill health for several months but it was only for the past two months that her illness became serious.

Mrs. Murphy was a native of Ireland but had been in this country for about forty years. She was seventy-eight years old. The following children survive: Mary, Ella, John, Thomas and William Murphy, all of Terre Haute, and Mrs. Dennis Nelson of Lafayette.

The deceased was a resident of Greencastle until about seventeen years ago, when she with her husband, the late John Murphy, removed to Terre Haute to make their home.

The body was brought to Greencastle Tuesday morning and taken directly to St. Paul Catholic church where a requiem mass was sung. Interment was in Forest Hill cemetery.

Relative of Mrs. Murphy in this city are Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Murphy and family, Mrs. B. L. Ward and Mrs. Margurite Murphy and family.

Miss Lora Eggers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse D. B. Eggers, and Roy Barker, were married in the office of County Clerk Harry Moore this morning. They will reside on a farm in Jackson township where both are well and favorably known.

Rev. L. A. Beard will preach Sunday, Feb. 20, at the Antioch church near Hamrick Station at 10:30 o'clock. Everybody welcome.

JOHN HOFFNER IS DENIED A DIVORCE

CHIEF DISPATCHER, WHO IS SEEKING LEGAL SEPARATION FROM HIS WIFE, WHO RESIDES IN LEBANON, IS RULED AGAINST BY JUDGE BRILL OF HENDRICKS COUNTY—SECOND SUIT OF SAME NATURE.

WIFE MAY GET DECREE

For the second time within a year, John Hoffner, chief dispatcher of the Terre Haute, Indianapolis & Eastern Traction Co., at Greencastle has been denied a decree of divorce. Trial of the first suit was in the Putnam Circuit court and was of a sensational nature.

Hoffner filed the complaint, being represented by T. T. Moore. Hays & Murphy represented Mrs. Hoffner and filed a cross-complaint asking that the divorce not be granted and that Hoffner be ordered to pay his wife a stated amount for maintenance each month.

The trial of the case here caused much comment, sensational evidence being introduced. Mrs. Hoffner, who now resides with her daughters in Lebanon, and who was supported in the case by her daughters in the first trial, asked that the court refuse to grant her husband a divorce but did not ask one for herself.

Several months later Hoffner filed a new suit in the Marion county courts. This was sent to Danville for trial. The case was tried last week and Judge Brill gave a decision Saturday in which he stated that he would not grant Hoffner a divorce. This decision has not as yet been entered as a decree, however.

Matt Murphy, of the firm of Hays & Murphy, went to Danville Monday morning, and presented to Judge Brill a proposition to file a cross-complaint for Mrs. Hoffner, in which she will ask divorce and alimony. In case the judge agrees that the cross-complaint can be filed at this time and an agreement regarding alimony can be reached, it is probable that a divorce will be granted the wife and that she will be given alimony. Otherwise the situation will remain unchanged as Hoffner will not have a divorce but will have to continue to support his wife as he has been in the past.

Jesse W. Weik at Terre Haute.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Feb. 13.—Jesse W. Weik of Greencastle, a student of Lincoln, was the chief speaker at the Lincoln league banquet here last night. His reference was particularly to the human side of the war President and he detailed many incidents in his life which have not been generally known heretofore.

The human side of Lincoln was shown by Mr. Weik in a way that brought out many characteristics of the war President. Mr. Weik's years of association with William H. Herndon, Lincoln's law partner, in their production of the "Life of Lincoln," made possible a refreshing departure from the conventional speech on Lincoln.

Mr. Weik told of his work with Herndon in gathering data for a book on Lincoln that is praised by students of history. He recounted the hardships encountered by Lincoln as a youth and as a man, and of his struggle to acquire an education, and exhibited some of Lincoln's original school books. His discussion of Lincoln's ability as a lawyer and debater was especially interesting. He read excerpts from many of Lincoln's letters and papers, all of which were original manuscripts.

In speaking of Lincoln's power as an orator Mr. Weik read from one of Lincoln's notebooks, the one Lincoln carried with him during his famous joint debate with Stephen A. Douglas in 1858. It is a small volume, fastened with a brass clasp, of a size to fit in a coat pocket, and is noteworthy not only for the data and material contained but for the order in which it was assembled by Lincoln to accomplish the downfall of the Little Giant.

Funeral of Eli P. Shake.

The funeral of the late Eli P. Shake, who died at his home in Cloverdale Friday night, was held Sunday afternoon in Cloverdale. Burial was in the Water cemetery, near Eminence.

Mr. Shake was 73 years of age. He had made his home in Cloverdale only one year, having spent the most of his life on his farm near Eminence. His death was due to an injury received two years ago when a horse kicked him in the head. Mr. Shake was the father of two sons, Howard and William, both residents of Cloverdale township, Putnam county.

VALIER'S ENTERPRISE FLOUR

MAINTAINED BY VALIER & SPIES MILLING CO. ST. LOUIS, MO.

Feel how fine

Ordinary flours seem coarse in texture when compared with the surpassing quality of Valier's Enterprise Flour.

By our special slow process of milling, we preserve, in the flour, the full baking quality of finest wheat, from which this flour is made. Then we sift many times through imported Swiss silk to make its texture as fine as silk. You'll find that Valier's Enterprise Flour not only makes better baking, but makes more baking per sack.

ROUNDING OUT 44TH. YEAR IN BUSINESS HERE

J. K. LANGDON SOLD HIS FIRST ARTICLE OF MERCHANDISE IN GREENCASTLE ON FEBRUARY 14, 1872—STARTED IN BUSINESS WHERE C. A. KELLEY STORE IS NOW LOCATED.

MOVED ONLY FOUR TIMES

There is a certain admiration which everyone holds for the business man who year in and year out, through prosperous and adverse times, continues his service to one public. Greencastle can boast of such a person in J. K. Langdon, who, on February 14, rounded out his forty-fourth year in business here.

Mr. Langdon came to Greencastle in 1872 from Knox county, near Vincennes, and opened a book store in an old frame building where the C. A. Kelley department store is now located. At that time there was but one other man in business here who is still operating a store. That person is Charles Kiefer. Mr. Kiefer had embarked in business here a few years before Mr. Langdon came but inasmuch as there was one year during which his business was discontinued, Mr. Langdon claims that his store is the oldest here in point of continuous operation.

The Langdon store was continued in its original location for three years. During that time occurred the big fire of 1874 which destroyed virtually every building from Poplar street to Franklin street between Indiana and Vine streets. In 1875 Mr. Langdon moved his store to the corner building now occupied by the Ricketts jewelry store, which was new at that time. Seven years came and passed and then he moved to the room now occupied by the Greek candy store. Eleven years later he changed to the room to the east now occupied by Gilmore's store, remaining there one year. Then the store was changed to its present location.

Mr. Langdon was in business by himself until 1899 when his brother, Daniel Langdon, now a resident of Sidney, Ohio, purchased an interest in the store. For seven years the business was operated under the firm name of Langdon Brothers. In 1906 C. H. Southard became the partner of Mr. Langdon and since that time the store has been known as the J. K. Langdon & Company book store. Elmer Stratton has been with the company for about sixteen years, having been employed one year after Daniel Langdon purchased an interest in the business.

The Langdon store has always enjoyed a reputation for fair dealing and at the present time has the complete confidence of the public. The business policy of the store has been good goods at fair prices and the trade that has always been accorded it is evidence that the ideal has always been upheld. It is considered one of the worthy business institutions of the community.

During the time that he has been in business here Mr. Langdon has never suffered a severe loss by fire. On one or two occasions he was forced to move some of his merchandise into the street when the store was threatened, but each time the blaze was placed under control before it had gained sufficient headway to cause extensive damage. Bishop Thomas Bowman was president of DePauw university at the time of the initial opening of the Langdon store. Through all the forty-four years the store has enjoyed a big share of the business of the university.

Red Cross Seal Sale.
According to information issued from the office of the Indiana Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, the 1915 Red Cross seal sale has far exceeded all previous records. The total sale reported to date shows that, through local anti-tuberculosis societies and other agencies 2,906,594 seals were disposed of during the holidays, netting more than $26,000 for anti-tuberculosis work in Indiana during 1916. Of this amount more than $2000, remains with local anti-tuberculosis societies for intensive local work; $2,861,26, representing 10 per cent on the first 2,000,000 seals sold and 9 1/2 per cent on the remainder, will go to the American Red Cross; and after the expenses of the Red Cross seal campaign are paid, approximately $2,500 will remain in the treasury of the State Anti-Tuberculosis Society for educational, publicity and propaganda work.

Proven Swamp-Root Aids Weak Kidneys

The symptoms of kidney and bladder troubles are often very distressing and leave the system in a run-down condition. The kidneys seem to suffer most, as almost every victim complains of lame back and urinary troubles which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to dangerous kidney troubles.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, which soon heals and strengthens the kidneys is a splendid kidney, liver and bladder remedy, and, being an herbal compound, has a gentle healing effect on the kidneys, which is almost immediately noticed in most cases by those who use it.

A trial will convince anyone who may be in need of it. Better get a bottle from your nearest drug store, and start treatment at once.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the Greencastle Weekly Herald.

PLACES ORDER FOR 4 WAGONS

CONTRACTS CALL FOR COMPLETION OF WAGONS TO BE USED IN UNION DELIVERY SYSTEM IN ABOUT TWO WEEKS—DISTRIBUTING POINT NOT YET CHOSEN.

WILL HAVE DOUBLE DECKS

Orders have been placed through the Cook Hardware company for the wagons to be used in the union delivery plan soon to be installed by Greencastle grocers. Four wagons have been contracted for by C. F. Mathes, who will operate the system, and they are expected to be delivered in about two weeks. As soon as they are received the system will be inaugurated.

The wagons will be ten feet long by 45 inches wide. They will have a second deck and will be covered, resembling the wagons now being used here by the express companies. The tops will enable the drivers to protect the groceries from the sun, rain, snow or dust. Underneath the rear of the wagons will be crates that will be utilized in carrying coal oil and other articles of merchandise that might damage the groceries.

Mr. Mathes has not yet decided upon a place for the central distributing point of the delivery system. It is probable, however, that a business room on the north side of the square will be chosen. There the orders will be taken when they are collected from the different business houses and distributed to the wagon operating in the district of town for which they are intended. The various articles of merchandise will not be removed from the baskets or pans in which they are originally placed, only the receptacles themselves being changed from the wagon collecting them to the wagon that is to go in the vicinity of the homes for which they have been ordered.

INCOMES EQUALLING 3 THOUSAND DOLLARS MUST BE DECLARED

Warnings of the expiration on March 1 of the time limit for declaring incomes for purposes of federal taxation are being spread in every possible way by Peter J. Krueyer, collector of internal revenue. After March 1 a penalty of fifty per cent attaches to taxes on all incomes which have not been properly declared to the office of the collector at Indianapolis.

Net incomes of $3,000 or more must be declared, although married men are exempt from taxation on incomes of less than $4,000. Mr. Krueyer said that many persons are likely to make themselves liable to a fine because of their failure to make a proper declaration of their income when no tax is to be assessed against them, and pointed out that whether taxed or not all incomes of $3,000 or more must be declared.

"Net income does not mean money saved from an income," Mr. Krueyer added, "but means the net income available for personal use and is what is left when the expenses incident to the actual circumstances of earning are deducted from the gross income." Expenditures on the maintenance of a home or other personal expenses constitute part of the net income, he said, and should not be deducted in making the declaration.

SEELYVILLE HAS "GHOST" SCARE; CEMETERY LIGHT REFLECTS UPWARD.

Seelyville has a "ghost," one of the kind that haunts grave yards and appears only when there is no crowd around—the kind that delights in confronting one or a few persons and by mysterious moves and signs giving evidence of its presence, but that invariably flits away when approached. The Seelyville correspondent of The Star sends the following account of the visitor:

"Just east of Seelyville on the south side of the road at Stop 21 1/2 on the Brazil interurban line is a grave yard known as the Woods Cemetery. Recently Horace Woods, owner of the grave yard, has been noticing a peculiar light or rather a ball of fire near the grave yard. It is not extra large, but sails around in the air and sometimes as high as 20 feet, again it settles down and is still for a while and then sails around again. When anyone gets near it, it disappears. Sparks are seen to fly off the mysterious body, but fly upwards and its rays of light reflect upwards instead of downward.

"Mr. Woods has a son, Meredith, who lives close by. Meredith's wife died about five years ago and was buried in the Woods cemetery. Horace told Meredith and he also has seen the ghost, Billy German, who lives south and east of Mr. Woods, has seen the same coming up the road, known as the 'Blue Goose' road.

"Monday night about twenty-five men from Seelyville went up, but the ghost did not appear. When the bunch had left the ghost appeared. Tuesday night another bunch went up and some left early, but those who remained, among whom were Jim Nelson, John Fader, George Dickerson and Billy German, report having seen the mysterious 'thing.'—Terre Haute Star.

AUTOS WON'T BE CHEAPER IN 1916

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 9.—More than 1,000,000 American citizens will buy automobiles in 1916, according to the estimates of Detroit manufacturers who have made preparations to supply at least 550,000 of the total number. Detroit's automobile output last year was 425,000 cars, valued at approximately $400,000,000.

Detroit auto makers are gambling on 1916; gambling with the millions of dollars in real money they have put into new buildings and machinery and the employment of thousands of additional men to handle the increased business.

More than 75,000 men now are employed in the automobile industry here. This number is steadily increasing. The average number of auto employes throughout 1915 was about 60,000.

Auto prices will not be lowered much during this year, local manufacturers declare. In fact, some of them predict a slight increase. The average price of all pleasure automobiles sold in the United States during 1915 was $672. Eight years ago, the average price was $2,123.

Statistics compiled by manufacturers here show that the proportion of automobiles to the population of the United States is 1 to 48. For every mile of road in the country, there is one motor vehicle, according to these statistics.

SEEK AID OF GOVERNOR IN TELEPHONE TROUBLE

Earl Hurst, president of the Cloverdale town board, and Estes Duncan, a prominent resident of the south Putnam town, were in Greencastle on Friday on their way to Indianapolis where they went to seek the aid of Governor Ralston in the case of the town board against the Cloverdale Telephone company. The state public utilities commission recently granted an increase in the rates of the telephone company on the basis of the amount of money invested in the plant. The patrons believe that the rates are too high and have secured a rehearing from the utilities commission for Feb. 23. The board is now seeking to show that the valuation is too high with the view of getting a more satisfactory report from the commission.

About Bronchitis.
When a cold extends to the bronchial tubes it is called bronchitis. For this disease Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is excellent. Mrs. Will Harris, Zanesville, Ohio, says of it, "Last Winter I was bothered for several weeks with bronchitis. I also had a dreadful dry hacking cough that clung to me so persistently that I became alarmed. Finally I had the good fortune to learn of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It relieved the irritation of my throat and two bottles of it cured me." Obtainable everywhere.

HARD SCHEDULE FOR METHODISTS

FOOTBALL CARD FOR NEXT SEASON SHOWS GAMES WITH INDIANA, PURDUE, WABASH AND BELOIT, BESIDES FOUR MINOR CONTESTS—HANOVER WILL COME TO GREENCASTLE FOR ONE DATE—WABASH BATTLE AT INDIANAPOLIS.

PROSPECTS ARE PLEASING

DePAUW FOOTBALL CARD.
Sept. 30—Indiana at Bloomington.
Oct. 7—Purdue at Lafayette.
Oct. 16—Franklin at Greencastle.
Oct. 21—Rose Poly at Terre Haute.
Oct. 28—Hanover at Greencastle.
Nov. 4—Butler at Greencastle.
Nov. 11—Wabash at Indianapolis.
Nov. 18—Beloit at Greencastle.

Games with each of the two Indiana members of the Big Nine conference, one with the strong Beloit college eleven, and the annual struggle with Wabash will feature the 1916 gridiron season for DePauw university, according to the schedule for the Methodists which was given out Saturday by H. Ellis, graduate manager of athletics. In announcing the dates Mr. Ellis stated that negotiations were carried on for games with several large schools other than Indiana and Purdue but that none were booked because of conflict with schools that could not be left off of the Old Gold card.

As has been the annual custom for many years, the season will be opened with a game with Indiana at Bloomington. During the last two years the state university has only been able to win from the Methodists by margins of a single touchdown and with the excellent local prospects for the coming fall it is expected that the contest will be more of a battle than ever.

Purdue comes back on the Old Gold card next season for the first game between the two schools since 1912. The resumption of gridiron relations with the Boilermakers will be welcomed by all followers of the DePauw aggregation. An easier time is promised the local collegians for a month after the first two games. Franklin is booked for the annual contest on the home lot on Oct. 15 and a week later the Rose Poly Engineers will furnish the opposition, the game to be played at Terre Haute.

Another new arrival on the Methodist schedule is Hanover. The game will be played here on October 18. It will not prove to be a test of the strength of the DePauw warriors yet it will attract considerable interest among the fans. Butler, the I. C. A. L. college with luck that is proverbial in games against the Methodists, is due in Greencastle on November 4 for the annual set-to.

The game towards which all fans of the state will look is the DePauw-Wabash battle to be played at Washington Park, Indianapolis, on Nov. 11. Preliminary arrangements for the contest have already been made by the joint committee of representatives of the two schools and every effort will be bent to make the game the talk of the state by the time November rolls around. There is little doubt but that to the victor will again go the so-called secondary championship of the state.

The season will close on November 18 with a game with Beloit college of Beloit, Wisconsin, to be staged on McKean field. This will be the first contest between the two schools but a battle royal is assured. Beloit has a reputation among the colleges and universities of Wisconsin that compares favorably with the ones held by DePauw and Wabash in Indiana.

The coming season probably will be the most successful in the history of football at DePauw. Only three men will be lost from last year's aggregation by graduation in the spring. These players are Rowan, fullback, and House and Anderson, who alternated at one of the halfback positions during the last season. With the occupancy of the new gymnasium, which will be formally opened and dedicated on March 8, an influx of material is expected here. A call for spring practice probably will be made by Coach Young before many weeks.

The news first in The Herald.

44,000 AUTO LICENSES ISSUED FOR YEAR 1916

Up to the present time 44,109 motor car licenses have been issued for the year 1916, by the secretary of state. The number of machines in the state has evidently doubled during the last year, for on February 1, 1915, but 22,379 had been issued. This shows an increase of 21,730 in the number of licenses issued so far. The records further show that the increase in the purchase of machines is the heaviest among the farmers.

T. A. EDISON, 69 YEARS OLD FRIDAY, SEES BRIGHT FUTURE

Thomas Alva Edison reached the sixty-ninth milestone of his life Friday. The years seem to rest lightly on the great inventor. He is still hale, hearty and active and as deeply interested in what the coming year has in store as a youth with all of life ahead.

"The future means as much to me at 69 as it does to you at 25, young man," said Mr. Edison to a young friend.

It is a difficult matter to corner Thomas A. Edison, to get him really to the point where he will give up a few minutes to an interview. He is naturally averse to interviews anyway. He has a distaste for publicity. He is a poor press agent. Like Napoleon, he will gladly give up almost anything except time. And when a visitor is lucky enough to corner him somewhere in the laboratory the inventor is usually occupied with something that demands his attention every minute.

Asked for a little birthday talk, Mr. Edison replied: "The way to be happy and healthy is to be busy all the time. I find that as I approach 69 I have just begun to live. If you are busy you don't have time to grow old. I don't work by the clock and accordingly I don't feel that I am getting any older. I work till I finish a thing, and then," here Mr. Edison smiled, "if there is nothing else to be done I go home."

"I hope that every one will feel as young and as pleased with life as I do when their sixty-ninth birthday comes along."

PRETTY KOKOMO GIRL ON LEAP YEAR DARE. PROPOSES AND WEDS.

KOKOMO, Ind., Feb. 10.—Miss Myrtle Smith, a pretty stenographer for an automobile company here, walked into a local drug store this afternoon and inquired about a furnished room, which she understood was for rent. About the same time Everett Peek, chauffeur for a local garage, entered the store.

"The thing to do," said the proprietor of the store to Miss Smith "is to propose to this good-looking young man and settle the room question for life."

"Do you suppose he could learn to love me?" asked the maid, blushing.

"I dare you to ask him."

Refusing to take the dare, Miss Smith walked over to where Peek stood.

"You look to be a nice young man," she said, "and as this is leap year I believe I am within my rights to ask if you will marry me and settle this question for me?"

"Aw, I couldn't get married," gasped the young man, to the amusement of a store full of spectators. "I haven't got enough money with me even to buy a license."

"That's all right," cooed Miss Smith, dangling a German silver purse. "I've got some money. Let's go see the license clerk."

They were married this evening by the Rev. Otis A. Smith, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Miss Smith has been an orphan, her mother dying two weeks ago. This was the reason she was looking for a room. Everett Peek is a son of Sherman Peek, formerly a member of the Kokomo police force. Peek and the girl had previously seen one another in the course of their work, but were not intimate friends.

Evils of Constipation.
Many of the minor ailments have their origin in allowing the bowels to remain in a constipated condition. No one can reasonably hope for good health unless his bowels move once a day. If they need help you will find Chamberlain's Tablets excellent. They produce no unpleasant effect and are easy to take. Obtainable everywhere.

RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR.
To half pint of water add 1 oz. Bay Rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and 4 oz. of glycerine. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the desired shade. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Full directions for making and use come in each box of Barbo Compound. It will gradually darken streaked, faded gray hair, and removes dandruff. It is excellent for falling hair and will make harsh hair soft and glossy. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy, and does not rub off.

GREENCASTLE IN DOUBLE VICTORY

HIGH SCHOOL TEAMS ARE GIVEN THE DECISION BY JUDGES IN DEBATES HELD HERE AND AT BRAZIL—DESIRABILITY OF LITERACY TEST FOR IMMIGRANTS IS SUBJECT AT BOTH PLACES.

GOOD ATTENDANCE HERE

The debating teams representing the Greencastle high school won both debates with the teams of the Brazil high school Friday evening. The question discussed was, "Resolved, That Immigration into the United States Must be Further Restricted by the Literacy Test." The affirmative team of the local school remained in Greencastle and met the negative team from Brazil, while the negative team of the Greencastle high school journeyed to Brazil where it debated the Brazil affirmative team. The Greencastle affirmative team won the debate here by a vote of two to one of the judges, while the negative team was given the decision by the judges at Brazil by the same vote.

A large crowd filled the auditorium of the court house to hear the discussion here. The Greencastle team maintained that immigration into the United States today, which exceeds over a million persons a year, is proving a menace to the people of the United States morally, commercially and politically. To prove this the debaters showed that the slums of our large cities have come to their present conditions because over forty per cent of the immigrants which pour into this country every year make undesirable citizens. The affirmative also showed that the south does not want the immigrants and that the west does not need them as there are plenty of native-born citizens who are willing to accept the position offered in these sections of the country. They maintained that the immigrants who are pouring into the United States now are not the desirable class of people which formerly came to this country from England, Ireland, Norway and Germany but instead are from southern and eastern parts of Europe and are literally to be classed as the filth of Europe who had fallen so low that they were unable to live in their own country and therefore had to seek elsewhere for a livelihood. The affirmative showed that if this literacy test had been applied in 1880 when this flood of undesirable immigrants began pouring into this country there would virtually have been no slums in our big cities today.

The Brazil negative team attempted to prove that by laws passed by our government and by articles and amendments to the constitution the undesirable immigration to this country would be sufficiently restricted without the application of the literacy test.

They quoted newspaper articles and statements of prominent men of the United States saying that the literacy test is insufficient. They maintained that the test is also too strict, basing their proof for this on the fact that at the time of voting all that is required of the American voter is that he be able to sign his name correctly.

The judges for the debate in Greencastle were Rev. D. E. Noland of Coatesville, Orval Bennet of the Clayton high school and Miss Louise Peters of the Wiley high school of Terre Haute. The team which represented the Greencastle high school here consisted Miss Ivy Whelan, Donald Maxwell and Leslie Lewis. The Brazil team was composed of Wilbur McCullough, Miss Sarah Dollissymple and Clarence Hansel.

The negative team of the Greencastle high school which debated at Brazil was Robert Athey, Harold Hootman and Frank Roberts. The judges at Brazil were Earle Clippenger of the Indiana State Normal school, Miss Zelpa Burket of the West Terre Haute high school, and Lee W. Brinton of the Garfield high school of Terre Haute.

There is nothing but commendation for the members of both the Brazil and Greencastle debating squads. The students had the subject under consideration well in hand and as the result the debates were very profitable. However, the Greencastle debaters proved their superiority both at home and at Brazil. The debates were the first that have been held between the two schools but it is planned to make them annual events in the future. The Greencastle debaters were coached by Principal Masters.

The Greencastle basketball team will play the high school team from East Glenn here on Friday night.

UNKNOWN PROGRESSIVE QUANTITY.

Every few days some Republican leader or would-be leader, or some Republican newspaper of the old stand-pat type remarks with an air of finality that the Progressives have practically all come back to the old party fold. Whenever it happens that for reasons of his own some Progressive, never strong in the faith, announces loudly that he will hereafter vote the Republican ticket he is greeted with acclaim and again word goes out that there is really nothing left of the party of 1912.

All this is for popular consumption with the idea of influencing unwary voters. The real leaders of the old party, the men who are behind the scenes and laying plans for Republican success next November, do not forget that the Progressive party cast more than 4,000,000 votes in 1912 and that only a comparatively small proportion of these millions have expressed their intentions as to the future. They know that the men who think, who formed the moral strength of the Progressive movement, have not yet indicated what their course will be in the coming election, but are in the background "watchfully waiting" to see what the Republicans mean to do.

These national leaders know that the present inactivity of Progressives in local politics is not significant of what they may do in a presidential campaign. They reflect also that 108,000 Progressive votes were cast in Indiana in 1914 and that all of them will be needed for Republican success in 1916. They have no present assurance that this 108,000 or any large part of it, can be counted on. In fact, there are the best of reasons for believing that they know it can not be won over unless broad concessions are made to Progressive principles and ideas. Hence it is that Progressivism is bound to exercise a powerful influence on Republican action in the June convention.—Indianapolis Star.

POLITICAL GOSSIP

[BY WILLIS S. THOMPSON.]

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 11.—When the office of Secretary of State Homer L. Cook was closed at 5 o'clock on the fifth of February, being the last day for the filing of declarations by candidates in the state primaries, republicans of Wayne county had filed no nominations for prosecuting attorney. After 10 o'clock that night, Denver C. Harlan and Frank Strayer went to the office of Secretary of State and pushed their declarations through the door.

Secretary Cook and Attorney General Stotsenburg conferred on the matter of accepting these declarations under the law. While it was agreed that under the strict interpretation of the law the declarations must be rejected, and especially while it was considered that lawyers seeking nomination to the office of prosecutor ought to know the law, it was decided that this being the first time the primary law has been tried all persons having supervision of the law's operation should be as liberal as possible with candidates. Secretary of State Cook has exercised his discretion in the matter and allowed the declarations to be filed.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 11.—A delegation appearing before the public service commission of Indiana the other day, urged that under the law it is the duty of the commission to make an appraisal of the tangible assets, or, in other words, make a physical valuation of all properties coming under the jurisdiction of the commission. The argument was advanced in opposition to the merging of certain properties which had been appraised by another method, fully as satisfactory or more so, because more practically accurate and more comprehensive in scope.

The commission commented on this appraisal contention, pointing to the enormous cost of such an operation, the direct cost to the state being in the millions and the cost to the public utilities being two or three times as much; that both spent by state and utilities must eventually be a charge against the people. The time that would be consumed in this work, making results practically worthless, was also pointed out. The measure of both time and expense, it was declared, make any such plan at once impracticable and impossible, worth little or nothing when completed, and a thing never contemplated in the law.

Since this same point has come up several times and from different parts of the state, it is not lacking in public interest to refer to this comment from the commission. It is especially interesting in the same connection to quote from the records of an actual experiment which at once proves the cost and the absence of any practical or finished value to all the work when it is supposed to be completed. The Saturday Evening Post says editorially in its issue of February 5, and under the heading "costly curiosity": "The Interstate Commerce Commission, you may remember, is engaged in valuing the physical property of the railroads of the United States. Last year it surveyed fifty thousand miles, or approximately one-fifth of the country's railroad mileage. It doubts whether 'Under the present organization, work can be prosecuted more rapidly.' This would indicate 1920 as the earliest date upon which valuation can be completed. But, in fact, not all of the mileage surveyed has been actually valued, and 1920 is probably a somewhat optimistic forecast.

"The subject attracted considerable interest when Congress was debating it, many months ago. At present, we believe, it attracts very little interest. Probably by the time the valuation is completed it will attract no interest at all, except among professors of political economy—a worthy and important but by no means numerous class. The figures by that time will be tolerably aged."

"The cost to the Government in the last fiscal year exceeded two and a quarter million dollars. This suggests a total cost to the Government not short of twelve millions. The cost to the railroads will probably be two or three times that."

"Not that a little matter of forty or fifty millions should cause irritation among friends when Congress' curiosity has been roused over some important subject. But an estimate of the value of railroad property, satisfactory enough for all practical purposes and of immediate practical interest, could have been had in about a fifth the time and for a fifth the cost of this elaborate inch-by-inch and pound-by-pound survey and inventory."

Are not these facts worth serious consideration and are not the conclusions of the sound horse-sense variety? Do not the facts sustain the position of the public service commission of Indiana and are not the conclusions the same? Appraising all the railroads and public utilities of Indiana would amount to about as much as all the railroads of this whole country.

One foreign owned newspaper which has arrogantly set itself to judge and destroy all things in Indiana which it can not control, and which is the recognized and accepted organ of the republican state machine, has constantly insisted upon the commission taking up the making of this inventory of Indiana ties, and wires, and poles, and rails, and pins, and bolts, "inch-by-inch and pound-by-pound."

When the commission has got along pretty well and much to the satisfaction of all the people who live in Indiana, and when there is nothing else left for him to say, then this editor who lives in another state, roars in large headlines on the first page of his Indianapolis paper because the Indiana commission's annual reports are not bound as expensively as those from other states. The state printing bill, he should remember, is one of a thousand Ralston administration economies through which democrats in the state offices have been able to retire more than two millions of dollars of republican debts. The people who live in Indiana are pleased to have their state out of debt and not anxious to have the old republican machine in office again to make more debts.

Another complaint from this foreign editor is that there was no representative from Indiana at the national commission meeting when it was held in Washington. Judge McClure, one of the republican members of the Indiana public service commission, officially represented Indiana at that meeting. But one untruth, more or less, is nothing to this newspaper.

A third complaint was, that Indiana was not represented at the next national meeting of commissioners which was held in San Francisco. In their desperation to get their hands on the state offices of Indiana, the republican machine and the official organ present this stuff as argument.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 16.—The scandalous expenditures being made by candidates in the republican primaries, which have already made it a contest of the money bags, have been called to the attention of Attorney General Stotsenburg, asking an interpretation of the corrupt practices act as applied to the primaries.

The first question propounded to the Attorney General was whether the candidate is limited in the amount he may expend for a nomination. According to the statute, under the listing of "personal expenses," the lid is lifted and he may go without any limit, other than his ability to get the cash and his willingness to spend it.

Another point was whether, under the corrupt practices act the candidate must make report of all the money he spends. It is known that New and Watson for senator, and Goodrich and McCray for governor, are spending sums many times larger than all they would receive in salary if elected—an election which even the republican state machine privately admits is hardly a remote possibility. The republican candidates for these offices who are not spending these large sums have conceived the notion that if the four gentlemen mentioned are forced to make an honest report of their expenditures it will become such a scandal that the republican state convention may repudiate the whole bunch and place men on the ticket who have kept within the limits of decency.

The attorney general says that every penny expended by any candidate must be contained in an official report duly attested. If this is not done the candidate becomes at once disqualified and at the same time is liable to prosecution for perjury.

Now all these candidates have been boastful of their campaign expenditures. They have not only been boastful but their elaborate headquarters at the Indianapolis hotels and in almost every important county seat in Indiana, the sending out of hundreds of thousands of pieces of mail, meaning large bills for postage, printing, advertising, labor and other things, all these things in less than thirty days can amount to a small fortune.

The law not only contemplates the report of the amounts expended but the "where did you get it to spend" is an embarrassing point. It is a most unreasonable thing to assume that any candidate is going to make any false statements so the array of facts and figures may be most interesting, the concluding days of the campaign witnessing the most lavish output.

The Indianapolis newspapers have had little or nothing to say about these conditions. If the democratic candidates were spending a tenth of the amount these republicans are putting out to corrupt the primary, there is not a newspaper at the capital but would be insisting that all such candidates be indicted, and restrained and all that sort of thing. They would be denounced as the worst political corruptionists in the country.

But republicans are spending more than a half million to control the primaries of March 1916 in Indiana. It is no new thing for the republicans to do such things. The newspapers are taking for granted that they would do it and even when a candidate drops out and announces that the money pace is too swift for an ordinary citizen to seek an office in republican primaries, little or nothing is said of it in public prints. Their attitude seems to be it serves the complainant right for being poor and ambitious at the same time.

NEW AND WATSON.

We agree entirely with the republican press that James E. Watson cannot be elected senator from Indiana. Further and merely as a matter of opinion we believe he could come nearer to an election than Harry New. Finally if one or other could be elected it would be infinitely preferable to have Watson rather than New in the senate.

So far as their political principles are concerned there is not a toss-up between the two. Both are rampant standpatters. They are of the tribe of Smoot, Cannon, Penrose and Barnes. A roll call in the senate would be answered the same way whether the name of Watson or New was called.

But there is a vast difference in the ability of the two men. Watson is an able orator and in general ability stands high. He would be one of the standpat leaders of the senate. Whether the distinction is to be desired or not, he would bring a certain kind of distinction to Indiana.

Harry New would be an amiable, listless monent in the senate. He would merely count one on the roll call.

The reasons we believe Watson a stronger candidate than New are because nothing can be said against the other. They are tarred by the same stick. On the other hand Watson has popularity. He is a splendid campaigner and New is not.

Watson further can claim a party debt which New cannot. After the Chicago convention in 1912, New lost interest in the sinking ship. He got away from the stranded bark. Watson stuck to the bridge and he went down with his lamps burning and his colors flying. During 1912 and since he has kept the republican organization together in Indiana.

Neither New nor Watson is a formidable candidate, but Watson is several thousand votes the stronger of the two.—Evansville Courier.

Mason W. Niblack has formally announced that he is a candidate for lieutenant governor on the democratic ticket. He was a member of the last legislature and his friends say he would make an excellent presiding officer. He was elected to the general assembly twenty years ago and has been employed in later sessions in an advisory capacity to the speaker of the house. He is spoken of as the best parliamentarian who has ever been a member of either branch. For twenty years he has served as a member of the state board of agriculture, his appointments coming from both republican and democratic governors.

Charles W. Fairbanks, the butter-milk boy of the Indiana republican state central machine, is writing display newspaper ads for the Indianapolis movies. It may also help to steady him for "that bump in June."

"We have picked a man for ever office to be filled in Indiana in 1916 and we have made sure his name is on the primary ticket for March 7." This was the authorized announcement of the official organ of the republican state central machine, and given by State Chairman Hays and Secretary Henley. Speaking of machines—but what's the use?

FILE CANDIDACY AS DELEGATES TO STATE MEETINGS

MEMBERS OF THREE POLITICAL PARTIES WHO DESIRE TO REPRESENT DISTRICTS OF COUNTY IN STATE CONVENTIONS COME FORWARD WITH PETITIONS—DEMOCRATS GET THIRTEEN DELEGATES.

WILL VOTE BY DISTRICTS

The men who desire to be delegates to the state conventions of the Democratic, Republican and Progressive parties filed their petition of candidacy with the county clerk on Wednesday. The names will be voted upon at the primary election on March 7 in the respective districts from which the candidates have filed their petitions. Most of the petitions were filed through the county chairman of the three parties.

According to the list of petitions the Democrats of Putnam county will be entitled to thirteen delegates to the state convention, which is to be held in Indianapolis on April 26. The Republicans will get eight delegates to their state meeting on April 5 and 6, and the Progressives will be entitled to five representatives at the party convention on April 27. The delegates to the respective conventions will nominate the state party candidates that are to be elected at the general election in November with the exception of the offices of governor, United States senator, vice president and president. In case any of the candidates for the nomination for these offices do not receive a majority of the preferential votes at the primary on March 7, the delegates in the respective conventions will determine the party candidate or candidates.

The petitions of candidates as state delegates that were filed Wednesday, which was the last day for filing, were as follows:

Democrats.

Fred Terry—Jefferson and Mill Creek townships.
W. E. Gill—Cloverdale township.
Fred Lancaster, Leo B. Reeves—Madison and Warren townships.
George Aker—Washington township.

The Dora Ruark sale, which was held Tuesday at the Ruark farm, five miles east of Greencastle, attracted a large number of buyers. All property and stock sold at good prices. Horses sold as high as $205. Jersey cows brought $75 a head and corn sold for 79c a bushel. Other property sold at correspondingly high prices. Col. O. O. Dobbs was the auctioneer.

POLITICAL GOSSIP.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 15.—Governor Ralston was given a rousing welcome when he appeared as the speaker at the big Sunday meeting of the colored Y. M. C. A. It was the largest and best audience ever assembled in the new auditorium. He spoke on the responsibility of the individual citizen in the betterment of government. He pointed to the duties of individual citizens in supporting good government by discriminating in making individual choice of candidates for office, in supporting those who were good, faithful and honest officials. He impressed the importance of the individual doing something affirmative as a part of the work of government, each doing his part to build and construct and sustain and encourage the right. He was not making and did not attempt to make a political speech.

Referring to the strength of this country, as a combination of patriotic, earnest and constructive individual citizens, the uniting of all men for the right to the utter elimination of all political lines, he called attention to the faith reposed by Abraham Lincoln in our citizenship and as a combination of earnest individuals. He quoted from a speech made by Lincoln before the Young Men's Lyceum at Springfield, Ill., January 27, 1837, in which he said:

"At what point shall we expect the approach of danger? By what means shall we fortify against it? Shall we expect some transatlantic military giant to step the ocean and crush us at a blow? Never! All the armies of Europe, Asia and Africa combined, with all the treasure of the earth (our own excepted) in their military chest, with a Bonaparte for a commander, could not by force take a drink from the Ohio or make a track on the Blue Ridge in a trial of a thousand years."

The governor spoke of the manner in which the people are today backing President Wilson as a demonstration of the fact that Abraham Lincoln was not mistaken in his estimate of the individual American citizenship. In part the governor said:

"To determine a man's responsibility as a citizen, it is necessary to look to his power to serve society. His power will necessarily be limited, of course, by his ability and opportunity. It is important, therefore that society discharged its full duty, as that duty relates to the equipment of the citizen for service. Dr. Booker T. Washington laid great stress upon the importance of the citizen qualifying himself to meet the obligations of his citizenship, and he pointed out in a most telling way the consequences that flow from the lack of the proper qualification on the part of the citizen. He laid great emphasis upon the value of education.

"Your organization cannot render a greater service than to let its activities be constant in bringing about the education of the boys and girls in which it is particularly interested. I am glad to be able to recall that the state of Indiana has not been indifferent in this respect, although it has not done all it would like to have done and all that it should have done. The Legislature of this state in 1911, in its specific appropriation act, recognized the importance of doing something in an educational way for the negro children of Indiana. It made appropriation being for the purchase of land for the purpose of establishing an Industrial School for negro children, the governor authorized and directed to apply not to exceed $25,000, provided there are funds available for the purpose. The governor, the auditor of state, and the treasurer of state, are appointed a commission to select a site and purchase the necessary lands for such Industrial School.

"This appropriation act depends upon there being funds available. When I came to the governor's office, there were no such funds available nor were there much funds available prior to the date when this appropriation by operation of law ceased to be effective."

To avoid anything that might be considered political Governor Ralston did not tell his hearers that the state was in debt more than $2,000,000 as the result of extravagance by republican administrations, and that his administration has since paid this entire debt. Continuing the governor said:

"I think I know the people of Indiana pretty well. I think I understand that they want the rightful pledges of their representatives made good. It is not a question with them of how humble or how powerful the pledgee may be. It is a question with them that the good faith of their state be maintained. There can be no question in this case as to the worthiness of the course for which this appropriation was made. For the last few years the people have been taking a greater interest in preparing their boys and girls for a higher citizenship by qualifying them to perform work in some particular field. The people have been laying great stress, and very properly, too, on vocational education.

"They are not losing their interest in higher education, but have recognized that the great majority of the youth of the state cannot secure such an education and they are anxious to equip them for the work to which their station and opportunities in life lay their hands. They want them, broadly speaking, to have an industrial education.

"It cannot be doubted but that there is a demand today for an efficiency in service that is not being met. The people are wanting better cooks and better domestics and better help in divers other ways than they have. There is no reason why this demand should not be met, and those who acquire the efficiency to meet it will be compensated by a higher wage than they are now receiving. What is true in this respect is beyond question true in every field of industrial endeavor. Society needs this sort of service and just to the degree that the state assists in making it possible for society to have such service, just in that degree will the state broaden and strengthen her citizenship.

"It is my intention, therefore, to recommend to the next Legislature that this appropriation again be made, if not a larger one; and that the state's pledge to you people be made good. The financial condition of Indiana today is such, and will be such, when the next legislature meets, that this appropriation can be made and paid without causing the state any embarrassment."

BRICK CHAPEL LEAGUE TO PRESENT POPULAR PLAY

Arrangements are being made by the Epworth League of the Brick Chapel Methodist Church, north of Greencastle, to present the popular comedy, "The Courtship of the Deacon" on the night of Saturday, February 9. The play will be given in the church. The members of the cast have been holding frequent rehearsals and are said to have their parts well in mind. A large crowd is expected to witness the show inasmuch as it is known to be one of considerable merit. The proceeds will go into the treasury of the league. Charles Hendrick is president of the church organization.

FIFTH DISTRICT INDIANA CONGRESSMAN BEING DISCUSSED FOR SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE IF HOUSTON IS MOVED UP TO BERTH LEFT VACANT BY GARRISON—IS LEADING IN RURAL CREDITS FIGHT.

VERSED IN FARM LIFE

A dispatch from Washington, D. C., Tuesday night says that Ralph W. Moss, fifth district Indiana congressman, is being discussed in connection with the appointment of secretary of agriculture. Mention of his name is based on the possibility that President Wilson may decide to shift Secretary of Agriculture Houston to the War Department to take the place of Secretary Garrison, recently resigned. The mention of Congressman Moss's name for the appointment has caused a large number of persons to favor him. He is a leader in Congress in behalf of legislation that favors the farmers of the country and this fact alone would make his appointment a popular one. At present he is the champion in the administration's fight for rural credits legislation in the House. Having been a farmer for many years, he has made a detailed study of the problems of country life.

The suit of the Citizens Bank of Ladoga against Ida McGaughey of Russell township, on a note, which was set for trial Wednesday in the Putnam Circuit Court, was dismissed by the bank. The jury had been called here to hear the evidence in the case.

It is said that E. C. Toner of Anderson, one of the former Progressives who hustled back into the Republican party a little too soon, is now at Oyster Bay trying to find out from Roosevelt just where matters stand. Toner probably has discovered that he galloped into the Republican camp without knowing whether he was bent, and he may be anxious to find some way to square himself. There are many others in Toner's fix. They were dazzled by the bright light of the Republican flame, and, like the poor little moth, they fell into the fire. Now, with their wings scorched, they are crying for help.

Secretary Bryan resigned; Secretary Garrison quit; Villa threatened us with invasion; Vice President Marshall is writing verses; and through it all Woodrow Wilson is still happy.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a certified copy of a decree to me directed from the clerk of the Circuit Court of Clay County, Indiana, in the case in which John E. Hicks, executor of the estate of Thomas H. Broadstreet, deceased, is the plaintiff, and Sabra M. Forbes, Etta Evans, Lillian P. Russell and William H. Forbes, are the defendants, requiring me to make the sum of ($880.50) eight hundred and eighty dollars and fifty cents, together with interests and costs, I will offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder, on Saturday, the 25th day of March, 1916, between the hours of 10 o'clock A. M. and 4 o'clock P. M. of said date at the door of the court house in the City of Greencastle, County of Putnam, State of Indiana, the rents and profits for a term not exceeding seven years, the following described real estate in said county and state, to-wit:

Part of Lots numbered Thirteen (13) in Vosses, sub-division of Lots numbered Two Hundred and Eight (208) and two hundred and eleven (211) of the original plat bounded as follows: Beginning at the Northwest corner of said lots, thence running South on Indiana Street, eighty-three feet, thence due east the full depths of said lots, thence north eighty-three (83) feet, thence west along Larabee Street to the place of beginning. If such rents and profits will not sell for a sum sufficient to pay and satisfy said decree, interests and costs, I will at same time and place offer for sale at public auction the fee simple of said real estate or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay and satisfy said decree, interests and costs.

Said sale to be made without any relief, from valuation or appraisement laws.

Dated Feb. 18, 1916.
THEODORE BOES,
Sheriff of Putnam County, Indiana.

Personal.

Benjamin Swahlen, of New York, is here for an indefinite visit with his mother, Mrs. William F. Swahlen. Mr. Swahlen, who has been private secretary to Guy Walker in New York, has not determined whether he will return to that city or not.

William Brothers, one of Greencastle's well known citizens, Thursday shook hands with his first two school teachers. The teachers are Isaac Lloyd, age 82 of Parke county, and Richard Lloyd, age 80, of Texas. In view of the fact that Mr. Brothers himself soon will be 65 years old, it is probable that no man in the county can claim such a distinction.

Word has been received here of the birth of a daughter, Mary Mae, on Friday, February 4, to Mr. and Mrs. Morton J. Harrison, Holland Apartments, Richmond. Mrs. Harrison was formerly Miss Ruth Harlan, daughter of Mrs. Mary Harlan, who resided on north Jackson street in this city for many years.

Miss Irene Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Cook, who reside at 377 west Franklin street, entertained several of her little friends on Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock. The occasion was her seventh birthday. A two course luncheon was served. Those attending were Meda Quigg, Pearl Wright, Wilma Hinton, Julia Siemer, Virginia Quigg, Annette Longdon, Mary Wass, Virginia Stoner and Martha Shannon.

Night Policeman Frank Riley arrested three hoboes about midnight Wednesday night in the business district of town on the charge of loitering. The men had been going up and down alleys and standing in stairways and their actions aroused suspicion. When arraigned in mayor's court this morning they stated that they were just going across country and that they accidentally stopped in Greencastle. They had never heard of such a place as the Indiana state farm, they said, but expressed a great dislike for the place when it was described to them by Mayor Cooper. However, the men were finally dismissed without sentence and told that if they stopped this side of the state line they would be arrested again and sent to the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ellis have returned from an extended stay in the South. While at Palm Beach, Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis met Albert Black, a former Greencastle boy, who spends three months each winter at Palm Beach, where he has a photographers studio. With Mr. Black this winter is Ben Austrian, a noted New York painter. The Palm Beach studio is most complete and the class of work produced by Mr. Black is said to be exceptionally fine. Tazwell, Va., is the home of Mr. Black. During their stay in the South Mr. and Mrs. Ellis visited many of the popular resorts and report a most enjoyable trip.

WHAT CATARRH IS

It has been said that every third person has catarrh in some form. Science has shown that nasal catarrh often indicates a general weakness of the body; and local treatments in the form of snuffs and vapors do little, if any good. To correct catarrh you should treat its cause by enriching your blood with the oil-food in Scott's Emulsion which is a medicinal food and a building-tonic, free from alcohol or any harmful drugs. Try it.

FORMER PROGRESSIVE SAYS THAT GREATER AMALGAMATION IS NEEDED BETWEEN REPUBLICANS AND PROGRESSIVES—BULL MOOSE LEFT OFF OF "HAND PICKED" TICKET.

POOR PROSPECTS SHOWN

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 10.—A few months ago the managers of the republican state machine, the close corporation which has been made more secure and exclusive than ever to be sure that none save members of the old guard have a look-in, was boasting of the magnificent prospects for the party in 1916. It pointed to no issue on which to base any hope of success, but the boast, without reason or issue, was good enough to keep up courage for the time being. There was much talk of "progressives coming back" and they "proved it by Toner."

But the day must come when progressives must be shown just how much the republican machine appreciated their return. That day came on the fifth of February, the last day for filing declarations for party candidates. On that day Chairman Will H. Hays and Secretary Jack Henley of the state machine declared through the official organ that the machine "has selected and placed on the republican ticket at least one candidate for each office in federal, state and county all over the state not overlooking a single county."

And now Mr. Toner is proving something else. He says the progressives have by no means come back. "What we need are more concrete evidences of amalgamation," says Mr. Toner. "I mean recognition of former progressives on republican tickets from state down to county. Those tickets should be well peppered with progressives. I say this with all the fervor I have. Indiana is a doubtful state. There are some republicans who profess to believe that all they have to do is to frame up a ticket and then get ready to take the offices."

After thus sizing up the work and the purposes of the republican state machine which has hand-picked all the candidates and then boasted about it, Mr. Toner points to some political facts which show the value of the work of precinct committeemen in all parties. He points to the fact that Indiana has some 3,500 voting precincts. A loss of one vote to the precinct, to the opposition, changes a 6,000 victorious margin of votes to a 1,000 defeat. The defection of two voters in each precinct would change a 14,000 plurality to defeat. Three votes lost to the foe in each of the 3,500 precincts would mean tremendous odds.

For example, in 1872, Hendricks, democrat, carried Indiana over Brown, republican, for governor, by only 1,000. A change of one vote to a precinct would have changed the election result and made a republican victory. In 1876 Tilden and Hendricks, democrats, carried Indiana by only 5,000. With 3,500 voting precincts, a change of one vote to a precinct would have changed the result, throwing Indiana's electoral vote to Hayes. In 1880 the state of Indiana went republican, giving Garfield only 6,000 plurality. Again, it will be noted, with 3,500 precincts, a change of one to a precinct would have made the state democratic by a narrow margin. Back to the democrats swung Indiana in 1884, giving Cleveland a 6,000 margin over the brilliant Blaine, and again it was a case of "one vote to a precinct," switching a state from one side to the other.

Then there was 1888, the year when Benjamin Harrison was the republican presidential candidate. The republicans carried the state that time by only 2,300. The shift of a vote or less to a precinct would have lost Indiana to Harrison in his first race. Back swung the pendulum again in 1892, and in spite of Harrison the state of Indiana went to Cleveland by a margin of 7,000. This plurality, on a basis of 3,500 precincts, would have been nullified by a change of one vote to the precinct. As showing how close Indiana actually has been and as indicating how difficult it has been to pry voters loose, it is to be noted that in 1896, in spite of help given by an army of gold democrats, McKinley carried Indiana by only 26,000. Then came the democratic slaughter of 1900 and 1904, abnormal conditions ruling. In 1908, however, matters had resumed their even tenor in large measure: the democrats had mustered and "come back" and that year Taft carried the state by only 10,000. A change of two votes to the precinct would have given Indiana's electoral vote to Bryan that year. As a matter of fact, because a few republicans in each precinct revolted and declined to support James E. Watson for governor in 1908, the republican candidate for governor was beaten by a plurality of about 14,000 votes.

GRANTED 17 DELEGATES.

Indiana Progressives Receive Apportionment for National Convention.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 9.—State Chairman Edwin M. Lee of the Progressive party yesterday received a copy of the call for the national convention to be held in Chicago June 7. Indiana will be entitled to seventeen delegates, apportioned as follows: Two delegates at large, two each from the Seventh and the Thirtieth Congressional Districts, and one from each of the other districts.

This apportionment is based on the number of votes cast for President at the preceding national election. The largest number of delegates is given to the state of Illinois, which will be entitled to forty-six.

Mr. Lee issued a call for a meeting of the state committee to be held Feb. 17 in the party's headquarters in the Lemcke Building.

The recognized and accepted organ and press control of the republican state central machine of Indiana, has assumed a boldness that is exceeding rare, especially so early in the campaign. In large first-page headlines this newspaper is trouncing and abusing most vigorously any man who opposes the handpicked candidates of the machine. It boldly proclaims the "choice of the organization" and makes it a sin to oppose this choice by voting for anyone else. Chairman Will H. Hays has publicly boasted that the machine "has at least one man for every office, federal, state, district or county, to be filled in November." The official newspaper commends this work and declares opposition to any of these candidates is against public policy and "against the organization." As qualification for holding office it specifies this man or that candidate "has stood solidly by the party organization." It has even gone so far as to name Harry S. New as "the organization choice." In this connection it must be remembered that the Harry S. New millionaire public utility club has been formed for the purpose of financing the republican machine in trying to get possession of all the state offices. Of course the voters know that these public gentlemen never stand a penny in politics or elsewhere that they do not tax somebody to get back several pennies.

Coming events cast shadows in advance. Each of four republican primary candidates is spending more than $100,000 in contesting for the right to have his name on the ticket in the November election. The same sort of extravagance that has characterized past republican state administrations. When a man will spend more than $100,000 to secure the nomination for governor or senator, positions that pay salaries of $8,000 or $7,500, the same recklessness might be expected from the same men in handling the peoples' finance. The last set of republican state officials, dominated by the same machine that now controls, left a state debt of more than $2,000,000 which the democrats now in office have paid. And why, in the name of all good sense, should a man pay $100,000 for the nomination, and then pay another quarter of a million in the general election campaign, to secure control of an important state office? This is surely a question the people have the right to ask.

Oh, Joy.

If there's any one advance in cost that does not worry us, it is that of castor oil. As far as we are concerned, it can go to $40 a pint, or therabouts, without stirring any emotion in our bosom, except one of unholy glee.

We and castor oil are not on friendly terms. We swallowed enough of it as a small boy to supply all America if we had it now, and we would supply it cheerfully, even unto our bitterest enemy.

PINDELL MAY SUCCEED TO WAR OFFICE

DePAUW UNIVERSITY GRADUATE WILL BE ASKED TO FILL VACANCY LEFT BY RESIGNATION OF SECRETARY OF WAR GARRISON, ACCORDING TO WASHINGTON DISPATCH—MEMBER OF CLASS OF 1884.

REPORT IS NOT CONFIRMED

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 11.—It is reported here today that Henry M. Pindell, editor and proprietor of the Peoria, Ill., Evening Journal will be asked to fill the vacancy in the Cabinet caused by the resignation of Secretary of War Lindley M. Garrison. However, no confirmation of the report could be obtained from officials of the government.

Secretary Garrison resigned Thursday because President Wilson would not "irrevocably" support the continental army plan, and because he opposes the administration's program of setting a definite time for Philippine independence.

President Wilson accepted the resignation but has not yet selected a successor. The President himself probably will take personal charge of the administration's national defense plans in Congress.

Assistant Secretary Breckinridge also resigned as a mark of loyalty to his chief, whose views he shared. The President accepted his resignation. Both take effect immediately. Maj. Gen. Scott, chief of staff of the army, automatically becomes secretary of war and interim.

Henry M. Pindell, who is mentioned as the probable successor to the office of Secretary of War, is a graduate of DePauw university with the class of 1884. He has been a prominent editor of the country for several years and has recently been considered for important political appointments. He was appointed as ambassador to Russia but declined the post. Mr. Pindell was a prominent member of the DePauw student body when here and he is known personally by several Greencastle people. He has always maintained a deep interest in the local institution, having only recently made a contribution of $1,000 to the new gymnasium. Mr. Pindell is a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

DePauw Man Declares He Has Not Been Offered Garrison's Post.

PEORIA, Ill., Feb. 11.—Henry M. Pindell, publisher of the Peoria Journal, and a graduate of DePauw university, Greencastle, Ind., mentioned in dispatches last night as a possible successor to Secretary of War Garrison, today issued this statement:

"There is no foundation whatever for any report that I have been offered a place in the Cabinet of President Wilson, either directly or indirectly.

"I am not seeking an appointive or elective position in the public service. I am going to Washington next week on a purely social mission, at the invitation of an old personal friend. There is no political significance whatever in this visit."

HARRY NEW MEETING ENDS IN REAL RIOT

(By Willis S. Thompson.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 12.—What a wonderful lot of difference it makes who does it. Every move made to organize the democratic workers of the state is denounced by the official organ of the republican state central machine as something hideously wrong. What difference that on the same page is the story in which the republican machine says "we have hand-picked a man for every federal, state or county office to be filled by the March primaries," and this newspaper declares "good work." What a good story for this official organ if this had been a democratic meeting. It was a meeting of the "Oriental Republican Club" in the north end of Indianapolis. Isidor Wulfson, who used to be inspector of weights and measures under Mayor Shank was president. There were other officers who used to have jobs in public places. They met and tried to put over a Harry S. New boom and they put over a riot. The names some people called each other are not fit to appear in democratic newspapers. When it was over the officers had resigned and been forcibly ejected and the club gave unanimous indorsement to Arthur Robinson. And the official organ never printed a line of the news for its readers.

COSTS MONEY TO BE A REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 21.—Mayor R. O. Johnson of Gary has become convinced that there is no use for a man of ordinary or moderate financial circumstances aspiring to nomination as a republican candidate for governor. With at least two candidates each spending more than $100,000 to secure the nomination he declares he is "firmly convinced that even Oliver P. Morton, Indiana's greatest governor, could not have been nominated in 1860" under similar conditions. He might have gone even further and quoted one of the newspapers which has declared that in these days when men see enough emoluments in public office to spend fabulous sums for nominations, "Abraham Lincoln could never have been the presidential nominee in 1860," for the interests which reimburse campaign expenses for what they hope to realize off the people afterwards will never back a candidate of the Lincoln or Morton variety.

So R. O. Johnson has announced that he is no longer a candidate for governor. Goodrich and McCray are still in the ring with their vulgar display of money, each spending more than $100,000 in contesting the nomination and neither knowing any limit.

Arthur Robinson, as a senatorial candidate, has more pep and less experience than Mayor Johnson so he is sticking to his job and pushing his candidacy in the face of unlimited funds with which Watson and New seek to purchase the republican nomination. Mr. Robinson is getting real experience.

The people who do the voting are every day thinking more seriously as they observe the output of these campaign funds, supplemented by more expenses in six figures being used by the republican state central machine to control all county nominations, the selection of all precinct committeemen and the delegates to the republican state convention who will nominate candidates for important state offices. When the people wonder what is in all this making it worth the unlimited price being paid they have but to analyze the value to certain big interests if they may absolutely control such offices as governor, auditor, treasurer, the public service commission and the industrial board. They will also remember how republicans left more than two millions of state debts which democrats at present holding state offices have paid. They will then choose between debt making republicans and debt-paying democrats when voting time comes.

INDUSTRIAL BOARD REPORT FOR 4 MONTHS

(By Willis S. Thompson.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 12.—The industrial board of Indiana has issued a report for the last four months of 1915, which is also the first four months of the operation of the new law. It is fitting to call attention to the fact that while most of the states have their compensation boards and laws, Indiana has set the model for both efficiency and economy of operation. Two or three clerkships is all the increase in the office which formerly performed the work for the inspection board, which is now merged with the industrial board. In point of efficiency the Indiana board is one of the very few that have kept up with the work as it accumulates, the small number of contests testifying to the satisfaction their rulings have given.

In the four months covered by the Indiana report there were 9860 accidents. In January there were 2660, which would make a total of 12,520. There were 65 cases that terminated fatally in the four months and 23 cases in January, which make a total of 88 for five months. The compensation paid by employers during the four months amounted to $38,072.62. Of this $17,752 was paid to employees who have returned to work and $20,320.18 to those who are still disabled. Cases settled by agreement have numbered 1582 of which 990 are closed and 592 are still receiving compensation.

Of the men injured 1225 were working for a wage of less than $10 to $20, 763 over $20 and 1612 did not report wages. The highest wage paid any of the injured was $60 a week and the lowest $3, the average being $11.65. There were 114 of the men under 16 years, 4744 between 16 and 20 years, 2502 between 20 and 30 years, 1316 between 30 and 40 years, 701 between 40 and 50 years, 184 between 50 and 60 years, and 21 over 70 years.

Of all accidents reported 83 per cent were kept from employment for less than fourteen days, which meant no compensation. Less than 6 per cent of the injuries caused loss of over four weeks and only 3 per cent ex-

The average wage paid to workers injured was $6.15 per week, the best being $3 and the highest $15. Among the accidents classified 151 bumping into things, 209 falling against sharp edges, 241 falling, 278 stepping on nails, 113 by falling objects, 914 on steam roads, 604 in coal mines, 703 in mobile manufacturing, 86 dry docks and merchandise, 28 explosive factories.

HUGHES BALKS PLANS OF THE REPUBLICAN MACHINE

(By Willis S. Thompson.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 12.—It was an interesting story to both republicans and progressives in Indiana, the newspaper story in Justice Charles E. Hughes' address of his former pronouncements against use of his name in connection with presidential nomination. The fact that Justice Hughes has declined will not allow the use of name by republicans or combination is now new. The fine work of H. H. Hitchcock was the most interesting feature. Hitchcock and his followers had decided upon the name of Justice Hughes and as an inducement to have him accept, they anticipated the president of the detail of the presidential gery as possible. Mr. Hitchcock began selecting the cabinet, agree to sacrifice his personal interests, accept his old position of postmaster general. So nice of him and so the old machine methods. The information is that it must be Roosevelt or Hughes, which is the way Theodore put it through Chicago meeting. The Hitchcock propaganda puts it this way:

"Mr. Hitchcock is to be chairman of the national committee and a postmaster general, therefore the pender of patronage, and that he who indorse his views and support as presidential candidate will receive commensurate consideration afterwards. The arrangement is to antagonize Roosevelt, because it be surely Hughes or Roosevelt."

When Mr. Hitchcock hastens to any knowledge of the plan it is something like republican orators newspapers denying that Indiana publican state officials left more than two millions of dollars of debt and that democratic state officials have paid the debts. The other lows have the documents, which might convince to voters.

TOWNSHIP TEACHERS MEET IN MONTHLY INSTITUTE

Teachers in the schools of Greencastle, Madison and Marion townships met here Saturday in their regular monthly institute. There was a good attendance with profitable discussions of educational topics by able speakers.

The first session was held in the public library from 9 to 10 o'clock with only the Greencastle teachers attending. A general discussion of school problems was conducted, Prof. Henderson meeting with the grade teachers and Principal Masters meeting with the high school teachers.

From 10 to 12 o'clock the meeting was held in the assembly room adjoining the office of County Superintendent L. G. Wright. The feature of this session was a talk by Prof. Straightoff of DePauw university on the subject "The Industries of Indiana." The teachers of the three townships were present.

The afternoon session was held in the second ward school building. The address was by Prof. Sweet of DePauw, who spoke on the subject "The Rise of the American People."

THE ONLY SONG THAT ALWAYS GETS APPLAUSE

It is natural that the song of "Dixie" should be popular in the South, but in the North also it gains applause over any other air. In the Woman's Home Companion for March a writer says:

"At a recent exhibition of the 'Clansman' in Los Angeles people cheered to the echo while the orchestra played 'Dixie,' and those same people sat absolutely still while the orchestra played 'America.' 'The Star Spangled Banner,' and 'Yankee Doodle,' those dear old songs that stirred the soul of my father, who fought for his country in the Civil War, and my brother, who fought in the Spanish-American war. I do not object to 'Dixie.' I love it myself. But 'Dixie' is decidedly Southern and not National."

A special to The Herald from Los Angeles, California, says: Mrs. Wm. A. Kreigh was a visitor today at the big free exhibit of California products maintained in Los Angeles by the Chamber of Commerce. She also attended the illustrated lectures and moving pictures that are given daily and plans to see the great international exposition that will be continued at San Diego during 1916.

MESHACK FITZSIMMONS SUC-CUMBS AT HOME NEAR MT. MERIDIAN—WAS ONE OF TWO SURVIVING VETERANS OF WAR WITH MEXICO IN COUNTY—RESIDENT OF COUNTY FOR MORE THAN HALF CENTURY.

FUNERAL ON WEDNESDAY

Meshack Fitzsimmons, age 89 years, one of the two surviving veterans of the Mexican war in Putnam county, died shortly after midnight Sunday night at his home in Marion township. Death was due to old age and general debility. Mr. Fitzsimmons contracted his final illness when in Greencastle one day last week. He had driven here and the cold weather brought on an attack of congestion of the lungs. He was unable to leave the Vestal live-ry barn, where he happened to be at the time the illness came upon him, until late in the evening. When he had recovered sufficiently he was taken back to his home but he failed rapidly and death came Sunday night.

Mr. Fitzsimmons lived with his daughter, Miss Sallie Fitzsimmons, near Mt. Meridian. A son, Samuel, Fitzsimmons, who resides in the same vicinity, also survives. The funeral will be held from the home at 11 o'clock on Wednesday morning, followed by burial in the Mt. Carmel cemetery.

The death of Mr. Fitzsimmons leaves but one survivor of the Mexican war in Putnam county. This person is Uriah Gasaway, a resident of the Reelsville neighborhood. Mr. Fitzsimmons would have been 90 years old next September. His parents were natives of Kentucky. Mr. Fitzsimmons came to Indiana when a young man and had resided in and near Putnam county for about sixty years. He enlisted for the Mexican war in June of 1847 and served until the following September.

TREASURER'S ANNUAL DELINQUENT TAX SALE

County Treasurer Henry Runyan Monday morning sold at public auction tax claims against Putnam county real estate on which taxes are delinquent. Under the law the purchaser pays the amount due as taxes to secure the tax claim. This amount bears interest of 10 per cent for the first 6 months; then 10 per cent for the second six months and 25 per cent for the second year. At the end of the second year, if the delinquent taxes, plus the interest due, is not paid, then the purchaser is given a tax deed to the property.

The property sold which shows the owner, amount of taxes due on it and the purchaser, is as follows:

James S. and Cora L. Watts, 105 acres, Jackson township, $29.25—Jackson Boyd.

IMMENSE LOSS TO CROP IS CAUSED BY OAT SMUT

Disease May Be Prevented by Formaldehyde Treatment of Seed Before Sowing.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 14.—The average annual losses from smut in oats are greater than those caused by any other preventable cereal disease in the United States. Treating the seed with hot water or with formaldehyde solution before sowing is an easy, cheap and effective way of preventing this disease. The latter method, which is the one most available for general use, is here briefly summarized.

Method of Treatment.

Mix the formalin (a commercial preparation which is 37 per cent. formaldehyde by weight) with water at the rate of 1 pound (a little less than a pint) to 40 gallons of water. The grain may be either loosely inclosed in sacks or put loose into a tub or vat with the solution. Agitate the sacks or stir the loose grain occasionally so that the entire surface of every grain will be thoroughly wet. Instead of being immersed the seed oats may be spread on a clean floor or canvas and sprinkled with the solution and shoveled over during the process so that they will be wet evenly as in the other method. Not over a gallon of solution will be needed for every bushel of dry grain. After sprinkling, shovel the seed into a pile, cover it with sacks wet with the solution, and allow it to stand for at least two hours before spreading it out to dry.

Precautions.

The oats may be seeded as soon as dry enough to run through the drill. If the seed is still moist, however, the drill must be set to sow more to the acre than if it is dry. The quantity which should be sown may be determined by measuring a given bulk before and after treatment and figuring the proportion of increase. After treating do not expose the seed to freezing until it is thoroughly dry.

Do not allow the treated seed to come into contact with old sacks, bins or machinery in which there may be smut spores. If such must be used, scald them or wash them first with the formaldehyde solution.

Yes, it Helps.

(South Bend News-Times.)

In the first three days following the announcement by a big Detroit motor company that it would employ hereafter none, but native or naturalized citizens, there was an increase of 50 per cent in the number of applications for first citizenship papers. Of course, merely taking out citizenship papers doesn't necessarily make an American, but it helps, and if the policy is enforced intelligently and tolerantly it is sure to do much good.

The Best Cough Medicine.

When you have a cough or a cold you want the very best cough medicine obtainable. There are a great many who very much prefer Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to any other. Mrs. Elizabeth Williamson, Crooksville, Ohio, is one of them. She says, "I have found Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be the best cough medicine I have ever used." Obtainable everywhere. adv.

George Ade Defines Indiana.

In the March American Magazine George Ade says:

"Indiana is a composite of steel mills and country clubs, factories and colleges, promoters and professors, stockbreeders and Chautauqua attractions, corn fields and campuses. It grows all the crops and propaganda known to the temperate zone.

"If a high wall could be erected to inclose Indiana the state would continue to operate in all departments, but the outsiders would have to scale the wall in order to get their dialect poetry."

OBITUARY.

On Monday afternoon, February 7, the citizens of Roachdale and Bainbridge were shocked at the news of the death of Miss Anna Maloney, which occurred at the home of her sister, Mrs. A. H. Taydor, near Roachdale.

Pneumonia, following an attack of lagrippe, became fatal in a few hours.

Miss Maloney was born in Bainbridge where she spent most of her life. She enjoyed a wide circle of acquaintances even beyond the bounds of the two communities and had hosts of warm friends. Skilled, and capable along many lines, hers was a life of service to others. Grateful thanks have gone out to her from many homes for her thoughtful response to the calls of sickness and distress or for generosity to those in need. Her many acts of kindness will be long remembered by those among whom she lived.

Funeral services were conducted at Bainbridge, Wednesday morning by Rev. Wm. Maher. Interment was at Bainbridge cemetery.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Sarah Callahan, wife of the late James H. Callahan, passed away Feb. 15, 1916, at the home of her grandson, H. E. Callahan in Indianapolis. Deceased was 78 years, 5 months and 15 days old at the time of death.

She was born in Cumberland county, Ill., Oct. 1, 1838, where she grew to womanhood. She was united in marriage to James H. Callahan on Feb. 26, 1860. To this union there were four children—W. R. Callahan of this city, J. E. Callahan, who passed away five years ago; Emma Alice, who died at the age of five years and Lura E., who resided with Mr. mother and three grandsons, H. E. Callahan, Thomas J. Callahan of Franklin, and Albert E. Callahan of this city; one half-sister, Mrs. Susan Cash of Oakland, Ill.

UNITED DOCTORS SPECIALIST WILL AGAIN BE AT

Greencastle, Indiana

Commercial Hotel

Monday, March 6, 1916.

ONE DAY ONLY

Hours 10 A. M. to 8 P. M.

Remarkable Success of Talented Physician in the Treatment of Chronic Diseases.

Offer Services Free of Charge.

The United Doctors Specialist, licensed by the State of Indiana for the treatment of all diseases including deformities, nervous and chronic diseases of men, women and children, offer to all who call on this trip, consultation, examination, advice free, making no charge whatever, except the actual cost of treatment. All that is asked in return for these valuable services is that every person treated will state the result obtained to their friends and thus prove to the sick and afflicted in every city and locality, that at last treatments have been discovered that are reasonably sure and certain in their effect.

The United Doctors are experts in the treatment of chronic diseases and so great and wonderful have been their results that in many cases it is hard to find the dividing line between skill and miracle.

Diseases of the stomach, intestines, liver, blood, skin, nerves, heart, spleen, rheumatism, sciatica, tapeworm, leg ulcers, weak lungs and those afflicted with long-standing, deep seated, chronic diseases, that have baffled the skill of the family physicians, should not fail to call. Deafness often has been cured in sixty days.

According to their system no more operations for appendicitis, gall stones, tumors, goiter, piles, etc., as all cases accepted will be treated without operation or hypodermic injection, as they were among the first in America to earn the name of "Bloodless Surgeons," by doing away with the knife with blood and with all pain in the successful treatment of these dangerous diseases.

No matter what your ailment may be, no matter what others may have told you, no matter what experience you may have had with other physicians, it will be to your advantage to see them at once. Have it forever settled in your mind. If your case is incurable they will give you such advice as may relieve and stay the disease. Do not put off this duty you owe yourself or friends or relatives who are suffering because of your sickness, as a visit at this time may help you.

Worn-out and run-down men or women, no matter what your ailment may be, call it costs you nothing.

Remember, this free offer is for this visit only.

Married ladies come with their husbands and minors with their parents. Laboratories, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.
